Mississippi's "New Look" in Traffic Law Enforcement

The Mississippi Highway Patrol's "New Look" in traffic law enforcement may soon bear features borrowed from the enforcement program of Virginia and North Carolina.

According to Public Safety Commissioner Thomas Shelton, the policies and enforcement techniques of the Virginia State Police and the North Carolina Highway Patrol, recognized by the National Safety Council as two of the nation's top traffic law enforcement departments, are being closely studied by the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Chief of Patrol Dave Gayden, Patrol Administrative Assistant A. D. Morgan, Patrol Auto Theft Division Director Thomas, and Property Officer-Pilot Geo. Hendrick, have spent two days in each of the states, studying methods and proceedings used in accident prevention and enforcement. The Mississippi officers spent two days at the Richmond, Va., headquarters of the Virginia State Police interviewing Supt. C. W. Woodson and division heads. The group flew next to Raleigh, N. C., spending another two days with Commissioner Edward Scheidt and Col. David T. Lambert, commanding officer of the North Carolina Highway Patrol.

Chief of Patrol Gayden said the policies and programs used by both states were found to be quite similar. "And quite effective," he added.

Manpower is distributed, he said, on the basis of a formula, using population, miles of highway, motor vehicle registration, and fatal accident rate by county. Accident experience, such as time, cause, location determines in turn the type enforcement employed. Men are assigned where enforcement deficiencies exist, and not arbitrarily placed in areas because "someone wants a Highway Patrol unit," Gayden explained.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol is already busy running an analysis of Mississippi's traffic information, using the Virginia and North Carolina formula. The Patrol enforcement chief admits that some interesting discoveries have already come to light in the survey.

"Simply, North Carolina and Virginia both use planned, selective enforcement. Experience determines their program, and they have their hand on every man in their organization. Supervision of personnel is extremely close, and they obtain maximum advantage from their records section," Chief Gayden said.

Specimens of accident record-keeping, manpower distribution, and organizational structure, as well as other data used in determining administrative policy planning, were brought back by the Mississippi officers for further study.

Commissioner Shelton, an FBI-trained official, said some of the advanced practice of North Carolina and Virginia will be inaugurated in Mississippi soon. "We are going to get out of the horse-and-cart manner of doing things."

The United States Department of Agriculture indicates that more than half of the fresh milk bought by U. S. households is in larger-than-quart sizes and gallon sales were 21% ahead of 1957.

Sunday, a holiday was enjoyed by the employees of Frank Fenasci's Electrical Firm of New Orleans. The outing was held at the Fenasci home on Waveland's Beach Boulevard. About thirty families enjoyed an outdoor picnic, swimming, boating, and horseshoe games. All these events provided much excitement. Mr. Fenasci was the horseshoe champion. The water fight was the most fun! Mr. Fenasci landed in the water—fully clothed! This only made the contest more laughable. It's good to laugh.

Delicious food was enjoyed throughout the day and as evening came on, many tired and happy people wended their way home.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yarborough whose new son was born July 25 in the Hancock General Hospital.

Best wishes are extended to Mr. Larry Bender of New Orleans who is now operating the Pine Burr Restaurant. The new name is Larry's Pine Burr. Good food will be served and Mr. Bender will enjoy meeting you.

On Tuesday July 26, a group of 22 veterans from Gulfport was entertained on the spacious lawn of the Reverend and Mrs. J. C. Rousseaux's home on Jeff Davis Avenue. The ladies of the Waveland Methodist Church sponsored the afternoon of pleasure. Food was served including home made cakes and punch. Groups singing hymns were present in the "at home." One of the veterans, Mr. E. Joseph, and "Mother Mc-Cave" without any accompaniment. The rendition was excellent. There were many good voices and lots of enthusiasm. The veterans were accompanied by a professional band, Mrs. Anna Robinson, 2nd Street, Mobile, Ala. and Mrs. John Gray, and Mr. Warren Sick and Mr. William Beasley, nursing attendants of the V. A. Hospital. Reverend and Mrs. J. C. Rousseaux, and Madames Harold Hicks, Roland Weston, Bogard Bordages, O. H. Williams, Ruth Mailleur, Thos. H. Brockman and Lena Gayles helped to make this get-together possible.

The Rousseauxs have their daughter and her family visiting them at present. Mr. and Mrs. Carl De Vids and children, John, Mike and Elise of Detroit, Michigan.

Les McIntosh, Rousseaux's grandniece of New Orleans and Mr. Warner De Vids of Freeport, Michigan, are also guests.

The DeVids children brought with them their cocker spaniel, "Gladie." The canine visitor made quite a hit with her friendly manner and her personality. The Waveland church extends sincere thanks to Rev. and Mrs. Rousseaux for their generosity in making the veterans.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. White and children were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Myers and daughters, Donna, Brenda, and Wanda, of Anaheim, Texas. The Myers had spent a vacation in Florida and "dropped in" on the Whites on their way back to Texas.

Mrs. R. S. Krumer, hostess to her guests during the weekend, has a son, Dr. R. W. Krumer, his wife and daughters of Mobile, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. VII Tamzin and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Tolly Miller and children of Jennings, La.

Spending part of the summer as a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. White is Mr. Jake McInnis of Hattiesburg. He is an employee of the Tennessee Gas Co.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Grigby and children are spending several months in Moorhead, Minnesota, where Mr. Grigby is in the construction department of the Tennessee Gas Co.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Frank Riley upon the death this week of his wife, Mrs. Irene Gray Riley. The deceased was interred in Waveland Cemetery.

Mr. William Roseman leaves shortly on a vacation trip. He will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Travis Roseman and children of New Orleans, Norfolk, Virginia, will be their destination.

Miss Adina Nichols has returned to her home on Water Street, after recovering from pneumonia. She was confined to the Hancock General Hospital.

Get well wishes to Mr. Leo Moran who has battled the virus last week and a stout attack this week. We all will be glad to see him back at Colson's.

MISSISSIPPI PAGEANT STARTS TUESDAY, AUGUST 2

Vicksburg-Albany, Miss., and the entire state will know who will emerge as the winner of the 1960 Miss Mississippi Pageant which begins here Tuesday, August 2.

With two Miss America's in a row from the State of Mississippi, confidence within the state of at least, is high that one of the 51 beauties can follow in the footsteps of Lynda Lee Mead of Natchez and Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon.

Homecoming queens from all over the state will take part in the talent, swimsuit, and evening gown competitions and undergo a careful scrutiny by five expert judges as to their poise, intellect, and personality during the five days they will be in Vicksburg. One will be crowned Miss Mississippi 1960 by her predecessor, Lynda Mead, Miss America 1960, on Saturday night, August 6. Then it will be on to Atlantic City and the Miss America Pageant with the hopes of all that she will make it "three-in-a-row."

Lynda Mead will arrive in Vicksburg on Thursday and will appear on the stage the last three nights. Mary Ann Mobley, Miss America 1959, will be on stage the first night, Wednesday.

This year's group of contestants is the largest ever to enter the Miss Mississippi competition. The pageant had to be extended to four nights of competition to accommodate such a large number.

The first event on the agenda for the contestants is a parade Tuesday night through downtown Vicksburg. Then there will be dinner for the contestants, their hostesses, and the mayors of the girls' respective hometowns. From the time a contestant arrives in Vicksburg, she is accompanied constantly by a Vicksburg resident who is her hostess.

Wednesday morning there will be a press conference after breakfast at which they will be posed, photographed and interviewed by an expected 20 members of the Fourth Estate. Next comes rehearsals for their talent number. Interspersed with the frenzied activity of rehearsing and getting their hair-do's, make-up and wardrobe just right, there will be a number of luncheons, teas, and dinners for the contestants. The first three nights will be preliminaries to the final night, Saturday, when the top 10 contestants compete all over again in all categories for the honor of representing Mississippi at the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City.

Miss Mississippi will receive a $1,000 scholarship from the Mississippi Pepsi-Cola Bottlers Scholarship Foundation. She will be outfitted in a complete wardrobe

Kentcha Ketchum

Didn't get much dope on fishing this past week as I was out of town for the weekend. Understand however, that green trout and perch are still being caught at Pearl and Jordan Rivers.

Soft crabs are again on the bad side, but a few are being picked up by the insistents.

Had a card from His Honor, Mayor Scalfie who with Mrs. Scalfie and their son John, are visiting his son-in-law and daughter, up North. He said he was having a great time with his new grandson. Looks like me, Johnny said.

Mr. and Mrs. Clois Dedeaux have been catching some nice speckles out front lately. Geneva is a beginner at fishing but Clois admits that she is putting it all over him when it comes to catching the most.

Lucich Camp, run by Mrs. Sylvester Dedeaux is a nice place to go for perch and green trout. It is located on Bayou Marone on Bayou LaCroix and have shiffs for rent.

A Baudry of New Orleans and Yours Truly made a nice catch of Green Trout up above Nicola's one day last week. Al was on his vacation for the past two weeks. He and his family returned home Monday.

Eunice Beatty, Jack Beatty of Hiverville, Rock Falls, Ill., and Pess and John Roebuck, Rock Falls cruised 1700 miles from Clinton-Iowa to Biloxi in a 22 foot Crestliner aluminum boat, cabin cruiser with a 75 HP Johnson motor. They were up Pearl River last Sunday and were going by car and trailer to Sildell, to visit friends before returning home.

Yours! Truly and Al Baudry spent the weekend in Baton Rouge fishing, golfing and boating with Mr. and Mrs. Lake Elliott and son Chipper. The fishing wasn't so hot but the trip was swell. Chipper is taking tennis lessons and doing fine. He says he will soon be able to take on his granddad.

Capt. Kidd is raring to go fishing, so he said. Will get around to you soon, Capt.

They are still catching 'em at Pearl River, according to Lucien Kidd and his buddies; of course he means green trout and perch.

About 250 Boy Scouts from New Orleans are expected over the second week of Troop 208 and scout executives of the Bay. Big doings ahead, boys.

A few stingarees have been seen out front lately—nothing to be alarmed about—if you let them alone they won't harm you. They make their appearance each year about this time.

Hard crabs are getting better—they are being caught most every where out front just now.

Trapani's softball team annexed another trophy to their collection Sunday when they came in second in the tournament held at Delisle.

A swell group over one day this week from New Orleans, were Albert Kelly, Sheriff Capt. of Sec. E. Court; Maurice Miller, Crier Section D.; A. J. Sweeney, attache, Sec. H.; Charles Heslin of the Roosevelt Hotel; Lionel F. Zylicz, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Heumann, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. George C. Prewitt, retired. Some were vacationing and some were just floundering over the bar at Trapani's Knock-Knock, too busy mingling with friends to go fishing or do any other sports. Kelly has a home in Waveland and spends his spare time in Waveland. See you later fellows, come back often.

Sam Benigno had been appointed as Junior Activities Chairman and would have charge of the juniors activities program.

Mrs. Edwin Neelands will assist Mrs. Benigno with the Junior program.

Attendance prizes were won by Margaret Moore and Lyndall Schaeffer.

Refreshments were served in the group at the conclusion of the meeting.

American Legion Auxiliary president, Mrs. John Rathford, Jr., announced the July 26 meeting.

Chancery Court Of Hinds County, Miss. Affirms Court Decision

The Chancery Court of Hinds County, Miss., has affirmed the decision of the Public Service Commission which denied rate increases sought by United Gas Corporation.

United Gas Corporation filed its notice of rate increases to go into effect on August 1, 1960, in sixty-five cities and towns of the state, as well as many rural communities and areas. The proposed rates were put into effect under bond and amounted to approximately $1,700,000 a year based on the 1957 operations and prices paid for natural gas. Since the Commission denied the application on December 15, 1959, the United Gas Pipe Line Company has filed several pipe line increases with the Federal Power Commission some of which have been put into effect under bond. This has increased the cost of gas to United Gas Corporation and these increases have been passed on to the public under bond.

It is estimated that increased rates placed into effect under bond by United Gas Corp. has amounted to approximately $2,500,000 per year. The gas company has given notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court. If the decision of the Public Service Commission is upheld in the Supreme Court, refunds will be made to the consuming public in an approximate amount of $8,000,000.

The cities which are affected by the rate increases are: Bartlett, Brookhaven, Canton, Clarksburg, Decatur, Enterprise, Forest, Gulfport, Hattiesburg, Lake, Leakeville, Lumberton, Madison, McComb, Meridian, New Orleans, Ocean Springs, Ocala, Ocoee, Palmdale, Pella, Philadelphia, Poplarville, Ridgeland, Sardis, Sumrall, Taylor, Tutuiler, Union, Vicksburg, Weason, and Wiggins.

Tree Seedling Plantings Increase 165,000 Acres In Years 1950-1960

Mississippi's forest land has increased by over 165,000 acres as a result of tree seedlings planted in the state during the 1959-60 planting season. This area was planted with 168,614,000 seedlings distributed by the Mississippi Forestry Commission, U. S. Forest Service, Tennessee Valley Authority and private nurseries.

Three Mississippi Forestry Commission nurseries distributed 100,556,000 tree seedlings to 11,031 landowners reports State Forester C. B. Marlin.

These seedlings will put idle land to work growing trees which will be rearing additional income, arresting soil erosion, conserving water supplies, helping prevent floods, improve recreational values and provide a home and food for many forms of wildlife.

Area Forester Marion Parker reports that 3,585,000 seedlings were distributed in Hancock County during the 1959-60 planting season. Seedling applications for the 1960-61 planting season are being accepted now. The Mississippi Forestry Commission expects to have the following species of tree seedlings available for distribution this year to Mississippi landowners for reforestation purposes: slash, loblolly, longleaf, shortleaf, and small amounts of spruce and Scotch pines; small amounts of bald cypress, cottonwood, green ash, yellow poplar, black locust, cherry, bark red oak, and sycamore.

Each landowner is eligible to receive 1,000 free seedlings which will be delivered to a central point in the county where the land is located for a delivery charge of thirty five cents. Orders above 1,000 will cost $4.50 per 1,000 plus delivery charges.

Area Forester Marion Parker urges landowners who are interested in obtaining seedlings to contact him or county agricultural workers for additional information.

'Operation Petticoat' At The Star Theatre July 31 - August 1st

Take the magnificent comedy artistry of Cary Grant and Tony Curtis, blend with the talented beauty of a pair of dolls like Joan O'Brien and Diana Merrill, add a dash or two of hilarious performance by Arthur O'Connell and Gene Evans, then sit the whole thing up in a Navy submarine painted in a matching pink, and you have the perfect ingredients for "Operation Petticoat," a weirdly wild and delightfully callous laughfest open to kingdom acclaim at the Star Theatre Sunday and Monday, July 31 and Aug. 1.

Produced by the Grant Company for release by Universal-International, "Operation Petticoat" is a classic of revelry and rind-ry as it reveals the howling adventures of a karassai submarine skipper trying to get his disabled boat back into operation. Just the fact that at one time the sub puts to sea painted pink, carrying five women passengers, and is the unsuspecting target of both her allies and her enemies, is enough of a convincer that here is one of the greatest entertainment packages ever to come out of Hollywood, a master comedy played by master comedians.
